

International Infection Prevention Week (IIPW)

Educate to Protect : Knowledge is the Best Defense

“EDUCATION IN ACTION
PREVENTING INFECTIONS,
EMPOWERING PROFESSIONALS”

International Infection Prevention Week (IIPW)

Educate to Protect : Knowledge is the Best Defense

For IPC Practitioners

"Your expertise transforms knowledge into action. As infection prevention and control professionals, your role in training, mentoring, and leading change is the cornerstone of safer healthcare. The international IPC Week is a recognition of your science-driven mission and your daily impact. You don't just prevent infections—you shape safer systems"

International Infection Prevention Week (IIPW)

Educate to Protect : Knowledge is the Best Defense

For Healthcare Workers

"You are the first line of defense. Your knowledge, vigilance, and commitment to best practices in infection prevention protect not only patients, but your colleagues, families, and community. During the international IPC Week, we celebrate your role in keeping care safe. Continue to learn, lead, and uphold the standards that save lives"

International Infection Prevention Week (IIPW)

Educate to Protect : Knowledge is the Best Defense

For leaders

"Strong leadership empowers a culture of prevention. Your investment in education, resources, and accountability is critical to sustainable infection prevention and resilient health systems. During the international IPC Week, we urge leaders to champion knowledge, prioritize training, and lead by example—because empowered teams deliver safer care"

